About Satori Integrative Medicine Clinic

Satori is a Japanese Buddhist term for awakening, "comprehension; understanding". In the Zen Buddhist tradition, satori refers to the experience of "seeing into one's true nature". This is the essence of our treatment philosophy.

Satori Integrative Medicine Clinic takes a holistic approach to health and wellness, treating both mental health problems and chronic health conditions by addressing the whole person. We work with patients to choose the science-based tools from a full range of medical traditions and alternative/complementary modalities that optimize their individual mental and physical health.

Dr. Stoner works WITH your current providers to find effective solutions drawn from western medicine, acupuncture, nutrition and supplements, and mind body practices. We treat: acute and chronic pain, fibromyalgia, CRPS, auto-immune disease, depression, PTSD, OCD, anxiety, addiction, opioid dependence, and many other conditions.
